A Victory Fleets Poverty and its That Powers Accept Indemnity in Silver.

(Associated Press.)

July 1.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the arrival of Chan Chin Tung, a man of commerce and one of the most active of the Yang Tze viceroys, was recently announced to Pekin. Dupress Dowager, he has visited the foreign heads of legations, to the declares that China is seriously embarrassed, in consequence of the powers should accept payment of the indemnity in silver. Chan says the viceroys and other officials were led to believe that the indemnity was only 450,000,000 taels in full, without any reference to the fluctuation in the value of silver.

Of the ministers, except the American representative, would agree to the indemnity in silver. France and Russia ready to pay duties on a gold basis. The legations of these two powers Chan Chin Tung that the powers should insist on the payment of the indemnity in gold, and would take strong measures to enforce the terms of the indemnity. He said that in the event of the powers contemplated the salt gabelle.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SEVEN KILLED

BY EXPLOSION IN WYOMING COLLIERY

Colored Worker Who Gallantly Carried Many Unfortunate Men to Places of Safety.

Omaha, Neb., June 30.—A special to the World-Herald from Hanna, Wyo., says:

"At 10:30 a. m. today an explosion of fire-damp in mine No. 1 of the Hanna Colliery Company resulted in the death of 167 men, injured scores of others, and caused the destruction of a vast amount of property. The mine was not fired, as stated in the early reports, but the explosion was terrific and completely shattered the timbers of the main shaft and numerous entrances, killed the workings with debris, and those of the miners that were not killed outright by the explosion were buried alive.

"Superintendent E. S. Brooks and a large force of men went to work with a will to remove the debris from the shaft and reach the entombed miners. Their progress into the mine was blocked by the foul gases, and several times they were forced to return to the surface.

"About 1 o'clock this afternoon four men were taken out alive, and a half hour later they were followed by forty-two others. Many were unconscious, and had to be carried from the workings. Some were injured, but none fatally. Two hundred and eighty-two men went down in the mine at 7 o'clock this morning, and up until a late hour to-night only forty-eight have been accounted for. Of this number, two are dead.

"Some of the miners that escaped said that they saw twenty dead bodies in one place. They reported that many of the bodies were badly injured, and ran hither and thither in the mine. Many of these could have escaped, but they lay down, buried their faces in their hands and gave up the fight.

"Of the 234 dead about 175 were married and leave large families. About 100 were Finns, fifty were colored and the balance were Americans.

A Hero.

Hanna, Wyo., July 1.—It has been decided that the explosion yesterday was caused by black damp, which gas, in a small alley of the seventeenth level, where the circulation became defective from some unknown cause. A miner working with his lamp, not knowing about the existence of the deadly gas, ignited the explosive. Probably no trace of the miner will ever be found, for he was surely blown to atoms.

William Christian, colored, is the hero of the calamity. He was leading down in a small chamber off the entry when the explosion occurred. He was knocked down by the concussion, but was only dazed. The mine was filled with a sheet of flame for a minute. He ran to the slope and saw scores of miners lying on the floor, many writhing in the agony of death struggle, while others had been killed outright. Christian rushed down the slope towards the rear shaft, but the gas burned out and the mine was in darkness. He groped about, falling over the prostrate forms scattered about the slope. Some of these raised up as he passed. They were able to talk, and the plucky miner urged them to follow him. A few did this, and he carried several to places of safety, from which they were later raised to the surface by the relief parties. He is not certain how many men he saved in this manner, but he believes he carried out at least a dozen.

Some of the rescued miners say he did even better than this.

Christian spent the night in the care of physicians, but today joined the force of miners and others engaged in the removal of the debris from the workings.

In some instances, the entire male membership of families is among the victims of the disaster. James Wilds, father and John Wilds, and James Wilds, Jr., sons, were working near the seventeenth level. Oscar Gelf, and Jacob Jacobson, brothers, and the sons of a widow and sole support of the same and two little children, were killed on the twenty-first level. T. M. Davis, one of the dead men, was one of the best known miners in Wyoming. He had charge of the electric hoists, and was caught below the seventeenth level. Of the 167 dead, fully two-thirds were married, and leave large families.

The several nationalities were represented as follows: Finlanders, 12; colored, 25; Americans, 15; Irish, 5; Swedes, 6; Italians, 11; Austrians, 1; Prussians, 1.

Arrangements have been perfected for caring for the dead bodies as fast as they are reached. The company will defray the funeral expenses in most cases. No funeral arrangements have been made until after to-morrow.

Flames Raging.

Hanna, Wyo., July 2.—The startling information is received from a miner who penetrated the mine where an explosion occurred on Tuesday that five workings below the seventeenth level are a mass of flames, leaving little hope of rescuing the entombed miners in that section. Efforts are now confined to preventing the flames from reaching the seventeenth and other levels above. Added to the horrors of the fire, which doubtless destroyed the underground workings is the danger of another explosion which may occur at any time. The situation is decidedly grave.

NEW ROWING ASSOCIATION.

First Annual Regatta Being Held on National Course on the Schuykill River.

(Associated Press.)

Philadelphia, Pa., July 2.—The first annual regatta of the American Rowing Association will be held this afternoon on the national course on the Schuykill river. The association was formed some months ago, and it is the ambition of its members to place the regatta on the same high plane as the Henley regatta in England. Its rules are practically identical to the Henley, and the regatta is held in the same date the Henley regatta. There will be races in single sculls, double sculls, pair oared shells, coxed pair, four sculls, four oared shells, without coxswain, four-oared eight, with coxswain, and eight-oared shells. All the out of town contestants are here. The eight-oared shells race is of interest because of the entries of the Argonauts of Toronto, and a composite crew from Yale.

AUTOMOBILE RACE.

Deknyff Won the J. Gordon Bennett Cup—A Number of Accidents.

(Associated Press.)

Ballyshannon, Ireland, July 2.—The fourth annual race for the international cup presented by J. Gordon Bennett, which is to be completed by every foreign automobile club recognized by the English Automobile Club, was started at 7 o'clock sharp this morning in fine weather. S. F. Edge, English holder of the cup, was the first starter. The contestants were S. F. Edge, R. Deknyff, A. W. Winton, Baron De Carters, C. J. Rott, M. E. Farman, P. Owen, Foxhall Keene, G. W. Stocks, Gabriel, L. P. Moers, and Genatzy.

The total distance of the course is 364 miles and 765 yards as measured by a surveyor. It is laid out principally in County Kildare, the start and finish being at Ballyshannon cross roads, about 35 miles southwest of Dublin.

In outline the course somewhat resembled a map of Africa, the track divided into two parts, which are known as the major and the minor loop. The distance around the smaller loop is about 45 miles and 102½ miles around the major loop. There are a number of short cuts, and there is a distance of about 13 miles that must be covered six times in going three times around the combined loops. The small loops are covered first and then the major loop is covered three times around the combined loops. Winton, Owen, and Moers are the American competitors.

At 7 o'clock to a second Jorjello, the starter, fired a pistol, Edge pressed the lever of his car, and the vehicle sprang forward and the race began amid cheers. The Americans all got off badly, and Winton, who had a lot of trouble with his car, lost 40 minutes before he was able to start. At 7:07 Deknyff's blue car went driving after Edge. Winton was not ready when called as third starter, and Owen took his place, the first American car making a rather poor start at 7:14. Germany's first representative, Genatzy, started at 7:22. Then came Jarrott, the English favorite, who went off at 7:28. Gabriel, who is the favorite of the American starter, made a bad departure at 7:33, his chauffeur having to push the car. Baron De Carters, the German, got off at 7:49, and a good start. Stocks, English, was off at 7:56.

The first lap, 47½ miles, was soon over. Edge doing good work, which was only excelled by Foxhall Keene.

The second lap, 54 miles, found Edge still first.

J. W. Stocks, of the English team, broke his wheel on his car, and retired from the race. He ran into a corner near Carlow. He passed on the second round at 12:40, four minutes behind Genatzy. Winton finished the run at 1:20. Gabriel finished his second lap at 10:25, and Baron De Carters at 10:55.

It was reported a few minutes previously that Jarrott had been knocked out of the race by a serious accident. When the Baron passed the stand he slowed up and told the officials that the reports of the accident had been exaggerated, and that Jarrott was not seriously hurt. Farman started on his second lap at 10:09. Deknyff started on his third lap at 11:25, having overtaken Edge. Foxhall Keene was second, starting on his third lap at 11:35, having lost a good third lap at 11:55. De Carters at 12:10, and Farman at 12:27. Foxhall Keene retired from the race. He found that an axle of his car was breaking, and that the motor was out of control.

Deknyff began his fourth lap at 1:04 this afternoon; Genatzy at 1:00:30; Gabriel at 1:40; Edge at 1:51, and Decaters at 1:54.

Moers, as his dispatch was filed, appeared to have retired. Genatzy has the lead by almost nine minutes over Deknyff, who is second, though they are subject to allowances. Edge lost two laps.

Jarrott's collar bone was broken, and he was also badly bruised. His chauffeur was seriously injured, and the car was smashed to pieces.

The beginning of the last lap was timed as follows: Deknyff 3:37, and Genatzy 4:02. Both men were riding furiously.

Another Accident.

London, July 2, 5:13 p.m.—A special dispatch from Ballyshannon says that Genatzy and Gabriel's cars collided at Maryborough and that several persons were injured.

The Finish.

Ballyshannon, July 2.—The time at the beginning of the last lap follows: Gabriel 4:45, Decaters 4:53, Farman 4:58.

Deknyff finished first at 5:34 p.m., and Genatzy second at 5:36 p.m.

There is now a statement containing six hundred persons on the top of the Mount of Olives.

BOUNTY FOR THE LEAD PRODUCER

FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER TON ON REFINED ORE

Matter Will Come Up in Caucus Next Week—Another Railway to the Coast.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, July 2.—There will be a Liberal caucus next week when the proposition of the government in regard to the bounties on lead and steel will be submitted for the consideration of the party. There will be a rearrangement of the bounty on steel on the lines already indicated. The bounty on lead will be $15 a ton on the refined ore. This bounty will go to the producer with a view of opening the mines in the lead district of British Columbia.

Another Road to Coast.

Another trans-continental line was put through the railway committee today. It runs from Vancouver River to Vancouver or New Westminster. It will connect with the C. P. R. at Sudbury, and also with the Grand Trunk at North Bay. Last year a charter was given from French River to Tete-Jaune Cache, on the Fraser River, and this morning it was extended to New Westminster or Vancouver. It is a line from the main line near Montreal River to Galienau River.

MISSION TO OTTAWA.

Members of the Provincial Government Have Gone to Ottawa to Confer with Dominion Government.

Last night, as a result of an executive meeting, Chas. W. C. G. decided that the coach, Mr. H. H. Green, minister of mines, left for Ottawa, where they will stay before the Dominion government some matters affecting the province. The new government is apparently not to be behind the state and in keeping with other ministries of the province it has dispatched the delegation to the federal capital, preparatory to giving an official platform.

The delegates will have among the principal features of its business the immigration question. Fearing that the Dominion may have by view the disallowance of the acts passed at the last sitting of the legislative assembly dealing with the subject of Oriental immigration, the ministers will press upon the government the necessity for strict laws dealing with this question. The delegates, it is said, will urge upon the Dominion government that the Japanese government is apparently not carrying out its agreement to restrict immigration from Japan to Canada, which was used as an argument against allowing legislation aimed at the Japanese immigrants. The delegates, it is said, will make a vigorous protest against any proposed disallowances.

The Westminster bridge matter will, as usual, be a question for conferring together about, and the local question also will be brought up. The speech made on the subject of the mine is undoubtedly a connection with this industry, and in this way it is hoped that a mining policy may be evolved which will materially assist that industry in the upper country.

But sixteen will also be dealt with, and an effort will be made by the delegates to ensure the bill being allowed and the action of the House in connection with the bill. The bill is a measure to restrict immigration from Japan to Canada, which was used as an argument against allowing legislation aimed at the Japanese immigrants. The delegates, it is said, will make a vigorous protest against any proposed disallowances.

TO CONSIDER PROPOSAL.

Lady Smith Miners Will Discuss Offer Made by J. Dunsinuir This Evening.

The miners at Lady Smith communicated with J. Dunsinuir with respect to the terms upon which he would consent to work being resumed. A copy of the terms was already in their possession yet Mr. Dunsinuir again sent them the conditions this afternoon. These are, in general, the terms which were in force at the outbreak of the trouble. The conditions for "dead" days he left to be settled by the manager and the miners concerned, and coal for the domestic use of the miners will be given at $1.50 a ton.

A Nanaimo dispatch says: "Another proposal for the settlement of the Lady Smith strike will be considered at a meeting of the union this evening. In the event of its non-acceptance by the majority, the company has received assurance from 100 miners that they are heartily sick of the strike, and are desirous of resuming work at the company's terms. Accordingly a work train is to leave Lady Smith for the extension mines at 5 o'clock on Friday morning, and work commenced without further delay. If the men put in an appearance as promised, Representative Moore, who has been on the scene for several days, left yesterday for Seattle, where he will open communication with headquarters."

FRITH COMMITTED FOR TRIAL TO-DAY

PRISONER'S DEFENCE IS KEPT IN RESERVE

Nothing New Brought Out in Connection With Case at Preliminary Hearing.

A. J. Frith was committed for trial this morning by Police-Magistrate Hall. There was nothing new in the evidence brought forth today. It was a repetition of the story of the events connected with it and the reading of the statement made by the accused to Superintendent Huxley.

The prisoner was formally brought before the magistrate on Tuesday evening, and the case remained until today. The crown case was conducted by Deputy Attorney-General McLean, Geo. Powell appeared for the prisoner, but cross-examined none of the witnesses, the defence being reserved.

The accused showed no signs of being affected by the proceedings. He took apparently the same interest in the case as any one else present in the court, but neither more nor less than that. Mrs. Frith was present during the taking of the evidence. As the case proceeded she went forward and husband and wife affectionately embraced each other. As his friends gathered about him he conversed freely with them and without any effect.

Storekeeper Parry, who had been in charge of the storehouse for twenty months, testified that P. J. Bailey had been a first class storehouseman in the naval dockyards at Esquimaux for eleven years. The accused was a storehouseman under the charge of the deceased. Frith's principal duty was to keep the storehouse in order.

Plans of the naval yards were submitted and various stores and points connected with the case designated by the witness. A plan also was included of the sail store where the crime was committed.

One door only was used of the building as an entrance. A passage way about twenty-five feet long and three feet wide extended alongside of the baskets and cases. A door at the other end of the building was opened from the inside, the key always remaining in the door on the inner side.

A packing box was first noticed by him outside of the door about 10 o'clock on the Monday after the crime.

Witness had received an order from Mr. Bailey to issue two packing cases to the accused. They were taken away from there. He did not visit the storehouse on Saturday.

Chas. Harris, storekeeper at the naval yards, said he knew the man, Bailey was the senior officer. He was senior storekeeper in the yards. It was his duty to report. On the 19th June the accused was discharged for neglect of duty through reports which he had received. The accused was to leave on the last of the month. Mr. Bailey came to him to get permission to deliver over two packing cases to the accused. He saw Mr. Bailey at the door of the storehouse at 10 o'clock. He did not know where his work. About halfpast seven on the 20th of June he saw Bailey in the yard in the direction of the storehouse. He did not see him again until 11 o'clock.

Sergeant Thos. Lough, who was on guard at the entrance to the naval yard, saw the prisoner about twenty minutes to eight. He passed witness and was in company with P. J. Bailey. The two men were going in the direction of the sail and deposit store. He did not see Bailey alive again. He saw Frith again about 10 minutes to eight. At ten o'clock he was ordered not to allow Frith out of the yard. He gave instructions to this effect to the guard, and was told that Frith had already gone out. He was ordered to search for Bailey again at 10:30 which he did. At about 10:45 he made an entrance into the sail and deposit store by a window, as the key could not be found. He found the body of Bailey in there lying on a pile of rope. His head was towards the east. He did not appear to be alive.

Witness did not touch him, but called for his gun to come in. Three men, R. Russell, foreman carpenter, and Bailey, then reached the scene. It was 11:05. There were no weapons about there—no knife or revolver.

Others then came in, viz. the chief boatman and Mr. Grundy. N. was allowed to be touched.

Dr. Stoddard arrived, and a time afterwards Dr. Hume, who was going in the direction of the storehouse, reached the scene. He was twenty minutes past eight. He saw Frith's left hand. It was held about halfpast eight.

Who, Kelly, a fireman, saw the body of Bailey in the storehouse. He saw the body of Bailey in the storehouse. He saw the body of Bailey in the storehouse.

HOW THE CITIZENS SPENT YESTERDAY

THE ANNUAL PICNICS WERE GREAT SUCCESS

Popular Resorts Thronged With Pleasure
Seekers—Several Hundred Visited
Vancouver and Duncan.

Dominion Day celebrations went off quietly in Victoria yesterday. Early in the morning picnickers began to wind their way to the different resorts in order to spend the holidays in the country. The popular resorts—Oak Bay, Foul Bay, Sidney, Langford Plains and Goldstream—were thronged with pleasure seekers. The Sunday school picnics proved successful in almost every case. Only one thing marred the pleasure—the uncertain condition of the weather. Most of the time the day was beautiful, but an occasional shower kept the grass somewhat damp.

Many Victorians took advantage of the opportunity to visit Vancouver or Duncan. At both these places the day was celebrated by the carrying through of excellent programmes. It is estimated that the steamer Ysomette and Charnier took as many as 700 excursionists from here on Tuesday evening, many of whom are attending their visit to the three-day picnic. This city was also fairly well represented at Duncan, the regular morning train taking a large number of Victorians to that thriving little town.

Three trains left the Victoria & Sidney depot in the forenoon, and each was crowded with passengers for Hazan Bay Park. Each of the prominent Methodist Sunday schools of the city were represented. Various games were in progress at different times during the day, and many enjoyed a boat ride on the bay. The baseball match announced to be played between the Centennial and Methodist school teams proved to be uneven, but interesting. Centennial school won out easily, the score being about 17 to 6. The programme of sports published in these columns was undoubtedly the feature of the afternoon. Every event was most spirited. Following are some of the winners:

Ladies' Potato Race—1st, chutney bag, A. M. Morris; 2nd, chutney bag, Mrs. Le Mesurier.

Young Men, 150 yards race—1st, silver medal, P. McGregor; 2nd, running shoes, — Blake.
Men's Stone Putting—1st, silver shovels, medal, C. F. Connor; 2nd, silver shovels, medal, — Gowdy.
Three-Loaded Race, Boys—Catcher's gloves, Oscar Sumner and Bert O'Brien.
Three-Loaded Race, Men—Fountain pens, Frank Bone and Edgar McMeeking.
Ladies' Needle Threading—1st, screen door, Mrs. W. H. Bone; 2nd, blouse, Mrs. DeWald.
One Hundred Yards Race—1st, silver medal, N. Gowan.
One Hundred and Fifty Yards Race—1st, hat, Vic. Swenson; 2nd, silver service ring, Frank Hill.
Ladies' Ball Throwing—1st, cake dish, A. M. Morris; 2nd, cake dish, Mrs. J. H. Baker.

St. Andrew's and First Presbyterian school children, together with parents and friends, spent the day at Goldstream. Crowded trains left the E. & N. depot at 8.45 and 10.30 a. m. It seemed at first as if the outing was to be a dismal failure for the picnickers arrived at Goldstream in a rain storm. This, however, soon cleared off, and the remainder of the day was delightfully warm. A number made their headquarters on the banks of the stream—an ideal place for a basket picnic. Some slight mishaps occurred, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. Several children in attempting to cross the stream on logs were rewarded by disagreeable duckings. An amusing incident occurred during the day. A young lady happened to slip into the water (which was little more than a foot deep) and several gallant gentlemen plunged to the rescue, the former disclaimed assistance, and calmly walked ashore. The sports, which were in charge of Mrs. McGregor and Messrs. Lussie and McMeeking, were a complete success. Most of the children participated, and if unsuccessful in one event generally managed to win something in another. In short a most enjoyable time was spent by all attending.

At Langford Plains there were two school picnics. On the grounds nearest the railway pupils of the Catholic school held their outing. There was the usual programme of sports, etc., and everyone spent a pleasant time. The pupils of the James Bay Presbyterian school gathered at the plains about a quarter of a mile on the right of the railway. In the morning things were somewhat spoiled by the showers. The afternoon was marked by the racing, jumping and other contests, and several baseball matches between scratch teams. A number of the boys took advantage of the occasion to go swimming in the waters of Florence lake.

The Baptist schools, Calvary and Emmanuel, left for the Macaulay Point grounds about 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning. An enjoyable time was spent by all. One of the attending remarked that "it was one of the most successful picnics ever held by the Baptist schools." There was a somewhat lengthy list of sports, all of which were entered into with enthusiasm by the children. Two baseball matches took place—a junior and senior. The former was won by the Calvary school by a score of 16 to 6, and the latter by the Emmanuel school the score being 20 to 12. On returning special cars left at 8 and 9 o'clock. A number stayed over to enjoy several big camp fires which had been lighted on the beach. Knox Presbyterian and St. Columbia

"I suffered from Dyspepsia and Nervousness for eighteen months. I was miserable. That is the case of M. Mougout, of Masson, Que., as stated by himself. Perhaps yours is similar. Perhaps you have that miserable feeling that people and circumstances are all going against you. You know you are wrong but you can't shake off the feeling. Then do what M. Mougout did—Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"I bought three boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and they helped me considerably. I got more of them and they cured me."

"I recommended Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all my friends, and they found them good."

"He recommends them to you, and if you use them you too will find them good. For Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have never yet failed to cure Dyspepsia when given a fair trial."

The Remarkable Career of an Austrian

The death of Prince Edward of Schoenburg-Hartenstein in the Monastery of Emman, in Prague, serves to recall his most remarkable career.

The Prince was born in 1823. He entered an Austrian cavalry regiment, and for a decade he was notorious as the wildest and most dissipated young blood in Vienna. Suddenly, at the age of 30, when he had reached the rank of captain, and had gained the reputation of a smart officer, he threw up his military career to become a monk.

His renunciation of worldly things was quite dramatic. He rode direct from the manoeuvre field to the monastery, doffed his uniform, broke his sword, and assumed monastic attire. Instead of going through the usual period as a novice he observed the strictest rules from the beginning.

The cause of his withdrawal to a monastery has never been definitely ascertained. One version is a disappointment in love, another that youthful escapades weighed so heavily on his conscience that he resolved in a moment of acute remorse to do penance for life.

The atmosphere of the monastery did not suit him, and gradually he pined away and died at the age of 40, after ten years' seclusion.

Numerous other aristocrats are among the Benedictines. The present abbot of the whole order, Hildebrand, was Count Hemphill, an officer in the Heligian army. Prince Philip Hohenlohe, and Count d'Avenas are also Benedictine monks.

The Benedictine nuns include Princess Schwarzenberg, Princess Liechtenstein, niece of the reigning Prince Liechtenstein, the Princess of Salm, and the Countess Hohenstein.

At 16 Had Been a Bear.

Sometimes it is good to be in a position where you can turn around to your shoulders and take down food that is a real builder and life-saver. A prominent grocer of Murrayville, B. C., had heard so many of his customers praising the food Grape-Nuts that he finally gave it a trial himself. He says: "For several years up to 16 months ago I was hardly fit for business from indigestion, which also affected my head. My brain was dull and I could hardly keep my books."

"One day I heard one of my customers praising the food Grape-Nuts so highly that I wondered if it would fit my case. So I took a package from the shelf and said that I would use it, and even if it failed I would not be much the loser."

"But before I had finished that one package such a change came over me that I thought it wonderful, and by the time these packages had been eaten I had changed so you would not believe it if I told you about it. My head grew clear, and my mind strong, and my memory was very much improved and I was well in every respect. I can only give you a faint idea of all the good the food has done me. It is all I eat for supper nowadays, and the rest of my family think as much of it as I do. Truly it is a great food, and if it were not a great food it would not have done me so much good and have such a tremendous sale in my store."

SPORTING

BASEBALL NINE TO FIVE

The members of the Victoria baseball team were back with a nervous complaint yesterday. The players from Portland defeated them by a score of nine to five. The victory was not earned by much work. Good ball was played for two innings. The first man up for the Multnomahs, Murphy, laid down a nice base, and started out as though he had made up his mind to steal every base, not minding the home plate. His bluff carried him to second, but Chase has never allowed a man to steal third on him, and he drew the base which stopped the wild career of Mr. Murphy. There was no scoring on either side for the first two complete innings. Of the game after that the best was the best. The tourists came in the third when the Portlanders were at bat. A couple of bunts which should have been hit down to the home of the Victoria players and the umpire, and there was some for the space of about ten minutes. Empson, standing over himself in his dignity, and while in a recumbent position decided the ball to a phantom third baseman. When it had been recovered, the run, getting had commenced. The visitors mixed a couple of hits in so judiciously with the home team's service that after matters had settled down and Holmes had struck the side out or the game might have been going on yet, the score was the best four times.

For two more innings the Portlanders were easy. In the fourth the home team tried the bases, but they only managed to bring one run across the plate. Some of the hope bit due ball hard and ran the bases with nice discrimination, but others could never connect when his would have been of supreme value. This remark applies to nearly every inning after the second. There were enough players left on bases to double the score made.

The Portlanders' strike was practically a repetition of their third. They made four runs when they should have been retired without scoring. The appended score tells the tale in part, but it cannot picture the nature of the impediments Holmes had against him in the excessive fielding and the equally excessive judgment of the umpire on balls and strikes.

NOTES.
The boys have had a couple of off days now. It is time for them to brace up and play the game.

The Multnomah team is composed of a fine lot of stalwart, gentlemanly, baseball players. They are handy with the stick, too. If they get a fair show they will beat every team they meet in the Northwest.

TO-DAY'S MATCH.
The same teams play to-day. Gurn will pitch for Multnomah and Empson for Victoria. The game will be called at 6.30.

PLAYERS SHUT-OUT GAME.
Berrett beat Mount Vernon on Tuesday by a 6 to 0 score in the best game of the season on the Everett grounds. Stovatt pitched for Mount Vernon, and let in three runs in the first inning by wild throws over first. Another run in the first and two in the second finished the scoring. Stovatt allowed the Mount Vernon five hits, and Berrett was knocked up six times. Both teams held their positions splendidly.

Everett will be the next team to play here. They will be here on the 10th and 11th of July.

J. Ambrose's Victoria eleven met and defeated E. J. Howe's Fernwood eleven on Bowen Hill yesterday by an innings and 19 runs. S. Wagstaff and H. Wilson, making 11 runs each, were the only ones to reach double figures for the visitors. Gilhepp and Swinerton batted first for J. Ambrose's eleven, and ran up 42 before Swinerton was caught by Bell for a well played 20. Gilhepp made 35 by very free hitting being caught by Howe from a hard return. Mr. Garnett played a splendid inning of 44, his timing and hitting being particularly good. In the second inning of Mr. Howe's eleven Howe and Gilhepp played fast cricket for 30 and 20 respectively, but the rest of the side failed to add materially to the score. The score follows:

BLIGHTED HOPES.

The Ontario Legislature is prorogued, and we shall hear no more of Gamney for a few months, let us hope. The member for Manitoulin, the hope of the Conservative party in Ontario in this its days of tribulation and dejection, concluded his by no means uneventful political season with a peroration which was a curious mixture. It was partly a prayer, partly a curse, and wholly impotent and sacrilegious. It was not on account of Mr. Gamney's Leader Whitley and his followers attacked the judiciary of Canada and did their worst to undermine the confidence of the people in the impartiality and probity of an institution upon which the foundations of a peaceful and law-abiding state are laid. The opposition in the Ontario Legislature knows perfectly well that Gamney's character was correctly described by the member who said "a plain and simple man knows what to call one who deliberately signs another's name to a document and passes it off as his own. He also knows what name to apply to a man who exchanges bank deposit slips, and surrenders the property of a bank, and then denies that he has done so. I have an idea, he said, I could find a name to describe one Mr. Gamney, who did some sleight-of-hand work with those bank deposit slips. Plain and simple people would use names about that man which may not be Parliamentary. And I wonder if that Mr. Gamney is the same gentleman as the member for Manitoulin, who yesterday received a bunch of pennies with the inscription, "To one who would rather be than seem to be an honest man?" In his speech the other day the member for Manitoulin declared that the Chancellor of this province, Sir John Boyd, should remove the star of Knighthood from his breast for having written the report of the Royal Commission. I could tell the hon. member that men who sign other people's names and tamper with other people's property and steal bank documents are not decorated with stars, as Sir John Boyd was by his Sovereign; but wear "stripes" supplied by the government; that such men are not allowed to change those stripes at their will; that they are surrounded with four stone walls of facts, and that a watchman with a Winchester keeps guard over them by day and by night. Mr. Whitley knows that this was the character of Gamney as revealed by the evidence brought out before two judges who before they were elevated to the bench were Conservative and Liberal in politics. The story told by Gamney was not corroborated at all. This man was guilty of all the offences charged as above, he fled to a foreign country because he knew he had laid himself open to prosecution on criminal charges, and yet because the government was not arraigned by the judges on the strength of what this man said the people of Ontario are told the courts of justice are open to the suspicion of conniving at wrong. It is no wonder some Conservative newspapers are talking and hesitating about following their leaders across such an abyss.

We can quite understand the temper of those worthy members of a generally discredited and deeply disappointed party. They went down very deep into their pockets previous to the last general election and piled up quite a handsome campaign fund. They were quite sure of winning and of recouping themselves handsomely for their temporary sacrifice. There is quite a surplus in the Ontario treasury. We have beheld so many examples of the Tory spirit that we can make allowances. Whitley did not want judges to have a chance of weighing the evidence of Gamney and pronouncing judgment. He knew it meant an increase of his term in opposition. A vast majority of the people of Ontario will now agree with old Joe Rymal that "a Tory out of office is more vicious than a she bear deprived of her cubs."

LAW AND ANARCHY.

The lawless element is evidently growing stronger in the United States. The press has been putting forth strenuous appeals to the authorities to enforce law and order, but the people are every day becoming more addicted to the habit of exacting justice or vengeance upon offenders.

The lawless are constantly enlarging their borders. A few days ago it was claimed that the advocates and administrators of "summary justice" with a short shrift, were all to be found in the Southern States. The area in which latitudinarian views prevail has become considerably extended. The lynchers and burners are migrating northward, eastward and westward. We hope they will not cross the border into Canada.

We also pray that the spirits which move to such heinous deeds as have lately been chronicled in the press will not feel impelled to cross into Canada. It manifested itself to a limited extent lately in Rossland, where an editor was brutally assaulted because he had the courage to ridicule in a gentle and harmless manner the idea of officially celebrating the 4th of July in a British city. The ruffians who committed that offence were found guilty and punished, but the punishment, unless the reports of the newspapers are true, was grossly exaggerated, did not by any means fit the crime.

There is a very potent force in example. Canadian institutions are affected to a great extent, and may in the future be affected to an increasing extent, by the prevalent spirit across the border. Respect for human rights and for the institutions which are the bulwarks of our liberties must be maintained at all hazards. The foundations of society are laid upon the impartial and prompt administration of the laws which have been passed by the representatives of the people in Parliament. The reasons assigned for the subversion of law and the substitution of mob rule in the United States are that there is no certainty about the administration of justice. The wheels of the chariot have become clogged and refuse to move with the steady and unflinching persistency which has been the lawless with awe and the law-abiding with confidence. The power of money and the potency of political pull are said to be the prime causes of the state of anarchy which practically prevails in so many widely separated parts of the country. The system of administration with its checks and balances, such as that reforms are exceedingly difficult to accomplish. There are dark clouds ahead for our neighbors. We are afraid. Let the executions at the stake in defiance of paralyzed legal institutions go on and multiply, and there will surely be retaliation on the part of the submerged element. Innocent men have suffered in the past and will suffer in the future through the most terrible of all means of driving the life out of the body. A sense of intolerable wrong will force an uprising. Then the race problem will result in a letting of blood which will leave no settlement behind and a certainty of more strained relations before.

Nor is the Negro problem the only problem, nor the attitude of the populace to the majority the only disquieting feature. It will be remembered that a few years ago Governor Goebel, of Kentucky, was murdered. The authorities have been seriously attempting to bring his murderers to justice. But murderers are difficult to bring to justice in more than one district of Kentucky. A prosecuting attorney was lately shot in a court room. The jury summoned to consider the case of his murderer disappeared, as is truly pointed out by jurymen may be expected to do when a just verdict is likely to expose them to assassination. From first to last the trial has been marked by incidents which could be possible only in a district where justice is held in contempt and the public is at the mercy of outlaws. The feud fighters have not hesitated to show that they recognize no obligation to defer to the legally constituted authorities. Witnesses have been intimidated and officers of the law have been threatened. But for the presence of state troops it is exceedingly doubtful if there would have been any trial at all. The barons of Jett and White probably would have attacked the jail and released the prisoners, killing all who dared to oppose them.

Since Jett and White were arrested there has been virtually a reign of terror in Breathitt county. The presence of a strong force of militia alone has prevented murder on every hand. The trial having ended in a failure, it is now a question whether the influence of the John Houston, late member of the legislature for Nelson, has been asked to bring about peace and harmony in the Conservative party of one section of the country by retiring to Ymir and asking for a nomination there. This is John's answer, delivered in the last issue of the Nelson Tribune: "A clique of little lawyers in Nelson imagine themselves the Conservative party, and can stoop to low methods in order to win a point. For three months this clique have stated that the Conservative party in Nelson has nominated a candidate to contest Nelson city, yet the Conservative party of Nelson has made no nomination, and will not make a nomination except in the regular way. John Houston, who represented Nelson riding in the legislative assembly that was dissolved on the 10th instant, has announced that he will be a candidate for nomination in a duly constituted convention, and his friends say he can get the nomination with ease. The clique of lawyers who are opposing Houston know this, and are now causing a report to be circulated that he cannot qualify, even if he is elected. This is done for no other purpose than to influence electors against Houston, who, somehow, appears to be as well liked by the rank and file of the party as he is hated by the clique of little lawyers who imagine themselves the 'whole party.' Victoria is not the only place in which the party waters are sorely troubled. A nice state of affairs if the president of the Conservative Association of British Columbia is to be entrusted out of a constituency he has nursed so carefully and represented so conscientiously, by a 'clique of little lawyers.' We shall be very much surprised if Mr. Houston pulls down his colors under the fire of the clique who imagine themselves the Conservative party."

The Scientific American says Lipton is doomed to defeat again. We shall see.

SCRATCHED DESKS AND OTHER THINGS.

To the Editor:—Nineteen children whose names are on one desk, No. 100, look at the front and says No. 99 must have been a very busy desk.

Three thousand successive children in ten years repeat their infant focus on 300 school desks. Early teachers come and go, and one set of school officers succeeds another; but facts to the floor and the newness of things is dimmed. Throughout the rolling seasons of ten years and one dime is spent on freshening up or necessary repairs.

Come a teacher, view the thousands of time and the charred varnish. Rows have been in heavy rollers; the school is going to the destruction—how woe, the principal to an unbroken grave.

Three teachers, instructed by the provincial department, attended convention at Revelstoke (three of them obviously, two in reality).

As an encouragement of professional zeal, No. 1 has her expenses paid by the government. No. 2 gets a holiday job nothing some $75. No. 3 has fifteen dollars deducted from her salary and is awarded a vote of censure.

Mr. Editor, built it about time that this petty persecution of a public servant comes, and that we see to it that our schools are put in the charge of those worthy enough to.

At last there is a prospect of a contest in which all the world will be interested. Lipton and his fleet will not be a circumstance to it. Corbett and Jeffries, the heavy-weight fakers, with their retinue of toughs, will not cause even a wave of excitement in comparison with it. There has been nothing like it under the heavens since the days of King Ahab, when Elijah, the prophet of God, challenged the prophets of Baal to their undoing. A dispatch says: Elijah Dowie has been challenged to a praying duel to the death. The challenger is Mirza Ghulam Ahmad of Qadian Punjab, India. "Come thou, O self-styled prophet, to a duel," says Mirza in his deft. "The weapons shall be prayer. Let us kneel on our knees in the dust of the earth, you and I together, and petition the Almighty that of us two whoever is the liar shall perish first." Mr. Dowie has not accepted the challenge, but it is expected he will.

The Suez canal returns are disconcerting to those who insist that British trade is going to the dogs. Of 2,733 vessels and a net tonnage of 8,061,483 passing through the canal, 1,906 vessels and 5,848,400 of the tonnage are British; being 69 per cent. of the number of ships and 72 per cent. of the tonnage.

THE OCEAN'S FLOOR.

Boat Which Travels Along on the Bottom.

In Page's Magazine Mr. Herbert C. Frye gives a description of the submarine torpedo boat Protector, which was launched at Bridgeport, Conn., U. S. A., the other day. This boat, the invention of Mr. Simon Lake, differs very materially from every other craft of the kind hitherto constructed. The main feature which distinguishes the "Lake" submarine is the power of travelling on the floor of the ocean. For this purpose they are fitted with wheels, and when on the bottom they run along the seabed just as a carriage rolls along a high road. The inventor states that travelling on the bottom is the most simple, safe and reliable method known of underwater navigation, and his boats differ from the "diving" boats owned by Great Britain, France and the United States in that they go under on an even keel and can rest on their wheels when on the sea floor.

When travelling on the bottom the new submarine has no perfect trip of equilibrium to maintain, as the sea can travel when resting on its guide wheels with a weight varying from one pound to two thousand pounds or more (according to the conditions of the bottom), and is so proportioned that the entire crew can move from one end of the vessel to the other with no materially disturbing her trim, great longitudinal stability being one of the features of the type. She can run more accurately than a star, and is free from the danger of a sunken mine, because she is running over a medium, the bottom, which is not constantly changing like the surface waters; currents do not drift her out of her course, and when the propelling machinery is stopped she is always anchored.

The wave motion does not affect her, as means are provided to compensate for the lifting effect of the ground swell at sea, so that in practice travelling on the sea bottom has been found to be a fairly comfortable mode of travel. An asphalt pavement in a pneumatic-tired vehicle. In travelling in this manner there is no danger of failure of some of the diving machinery, which might cause a head-first dive to the bottom.

A chief feature of the new submarine is the diving compartment, located in the bow of the boat. It is a room about eight feet long, with a door that opens outward into the sea. An air-lock connects the diving compartment with the living quarters when the captain desires to send a man out. He enters this compartment, closes the door, and opens a valve which admits the compressed air until the pressure of the air in the diving compartment equals the pressure of the water at whatever depth the boat happens to be. There is a duplex gauge in the compartment with a red and a black hand. The black hand shows the pressure outside, and the red hand shows the pressure of air inside the diving compartment. When the two hands are together this indicates that the pressure of the water outside and the air pressure inside are equal. Then the door can be opened, and the water will not come in. The diver who leaves the boat can pick up a cable and run down mining and engineering work. It may be added that Holland boats are not provided with diving compartments.

It is also pointed out that cannery surroundings and forebore must be kept clear of dead fish, the owner being held responsible, no matter where the fish came from. —E. F. The imports totalled $279,435, of which $243,715 were dutiable and $35,720 free. —Among the important features to outward Oriental cargoes in recent weeks has been the vast amount of flour which has been going forward by nearly every steamer. Whether the more or less strained relations between Japan and Russia have had anything to do with the business is a matter of conjecture, but it is said on the Sound that never at this time of year have the shipments of flour to the Far East been so heavy. During the month just closed 90,000 barrels were shipped from Seattle to the principal cities in the Mikado's country.

—The Douglas Summer Gardens will be open to-night, and it is expected that a large audience will be present. The excellent programme rendered on the opening night will be repeated with a few slight changes, and it is expected that it will be put on even more smoothly than on Monday evening on account of having more time to make the necessary preparations. There has been added over 100 lights to the illuminations, and many improvements made. There will be no more postponements on account of the inclemency of the weather unless it rains in a continuous downpour. It practically costs the same to run the gardens rain or shine, so the performance will be given except under very exceptional circumstances.

WILL VISIT VICTORIA.

Annual Session of Washington State
Press Association Will Be Held Here.

The Washington State Press Association has this year accepted an invitation from the commercial bodies of Victoria, the evergreen city of Canada, to hold its seventeenth annual session in this city. The time has been fixed for August 25th-27th.

The executive committee will soon meet to prepare a programme and complete arrangements for what is hoped will be one of the largest attended and most fruitful in its results of any of its state conventions. The association will rendezvous in Seattle on Monday, August 24th, and go by steamer the following morning to Victoria. Besides the business sessions there will be many enjoyable social features.

During past years, through the contact of bright minds and interchange of valuable thought, the Washington State Press Association has been of incalculable benefit to its membership. It has been an inspiration that has brought forth a fraternal feeling and a spirit of helpfulness that argues well for the present and future advancement of the newspaper profession in the prosperous state of Washington. In a circular letter just issued by the association President W. A. Steel says: "It is earnestly desired that every legitimate newspaper man in our commonwealth affiliate with the state organization. If the reader of this circular is not already a member he should at once send the membership fee of one dollar to Secretary Grant G. Angle, of Shelton, and have his name enrolled. Furthermore, arrange your affairs so that you and your wife can attend the Victoria meeting."

"Let us hope that the Washington State Press Association, with its lofty aims and honest effort, will continue to prove even a greater force for a free, pure, progressive, educational press."

Manila, July 2.—The cable ship Anglia has paid out cable to within 100 miles of Honolulu, where she expects to arrive early on Friday morning, thus completing the Pacific cable between the Philippines and San Francisco.

SEEKING INJUNCTION.

The Sydney Orion Tea Co., through their solicitors, Deacon, Dunn &amp; Routh, have secured a writ from the High Court, Justice of the Peace, John Hargrave, compelling the business of the Orion Tea Co. to cease and desist from infringing the defendant's trademark.

VICTORIAN LEADS IN ALL CONTESTSSTEAMER HAS HAD
MANY EXCITING RUNSPrincess May From Skagway—Barque
Devonby Arrives From South
for Orders—Notes.

There is probably no prouder crew in these waters than Captain G. Roberts, Chief Engineer Fraser, Purser Harry Howard and the other officers and men who man the ship which they have a formidable opponent alongside the Victoria and Terminal railway ferry. An occasion arose yesterday on the trip to Port Graham when an opportunity was given for the Gulf liner to display her remarkable swiftness. It was the first time that the Yosemite was given a chase in her own element. She was bound up in the Fraser, and as she loomed in sight of the Victoria a stern was a merry twinkle in the eyes of those on the latter. Correspondence between the wheel and engine room was at once opened. Smoke poured from the funnels of both ships, but the race was the Victoria's from the start. She rapidly passed the C. P. N. boat, and on a long run would have certainly left her far behind near the Victoria runs a faster and fiercer, and sixteen miles an hour, but when opened only two boilers are in service on the ship, but with three in use her speed could be still further increased.

There is only one vessel which these on the steamer are now lying in wait for and she is the new C. P. N. liner, the Princess Victoria. This ship, they do not expect to beat, but they are of the impression that the Victoria could give her a hard brush. Since the ferry was placed in service on the Gulf she has had many a lively turn. A short time ago one of the torpedo boats from Esquimalt attempted to run circles about the ship, but discovered before many minutes what a hard proposition she was up against. The small boat crossed the bows of the Victoria once or twice, but when the big liner was opened out positions were reversed.

FROM SKAGWAY.

The C. P. N. Skagway liner Princess May returned from "the north" on Tuesday night with another list of passengers, including Capt. John Irving, who has been through to Atlin. There are comparatively few coming from the northern interior this spring, and it would seem now as though the rush expected from that part of the world will not commence until after the close up of gold on the Yukon tributaries.

H. Bell-Irving, of Vancouver, was another passenger, having made a visit to the northern fisheries as far north as Ketchikan. He reported that the fishing outlook was generally satisfactory up north. There was a sufficient supply of labor on Rivers Inlet, but the fishing had not begun there as yet. On the Skeena the first run of sockeye took place in June 24th, but it was not large, and the fish were not carried to the first week in July. Spring salmon had been scarce here, but the general conditions were most favorable for a good season, the water was high and exceptionally muddy, and if the fish ran good catches should be made. There was a little shortage of labor on the Skeena. On the Neas, the fish had not yet made their appearance, and the water was clear compared with the Skeena, and very few spring salmon had been caught. In Southeast Alaska a number of canneries had closed down owing to the deplorable state of the humpback market; in fact the market generally was more or less depressed for all brands of fish, both in Great Britain and the United States.

News was brought by the steamer of several hundred miners at the mouth of the Tanana who are stranded and waiting an opportunity of returning to civilization, having learned that the district is nothing like what the Seattle papers have represented it to be in point of richness.

KESTRAL IN DEMAND.

The Dominion fishery cruiser Kestral has returned to Vancouver from a cruise in northern waters. Capt. Newcomb received a number of reports indicating the necessity of a periodical inspection of the waters, whither pelting among the Indians, smuggling and breaches of the fisheries regulations being among the chief matters complained of. At one point he found a sawmill running full blast, which was dumping all its sawdust and waste into a running stream, formerly a favorite breeding ground of the salmon. This was at once stopped. Several previously unrecorded rocks were also located during the trip.

DOVENBY IN ROADS.

The British barque Dovenby, Captain Fegan, arrived in the Royal Roads yesterday in ballast from Toopilla. The vessel is 67 days out from the South American port. She was in company with the ship Glamis, now in Esquimalt discharging naval stores, for part of her voyage, but though both appeared to be about of equal speed, the loaded ship beat her to port by upwards of a week.

MARINE NOTES.

Steamer Quine is expected from San Francisco tonight, and the Unatilla will sail for the Golden Gate to-morrow evening. The Unatilla has been laid up at Seattle since last January, undergoing a thorough overhauling and repairing, and receiving new boilers.

Steamer Tees, which sails for northern British Columbia ports to-night, will carry among other passengers Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. Williams, J. H. Croft, J. H. Mark, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Dailin, C. Field, Mr. Anderson and J. E. Doyen. The naval fleet at Esquimalt was represented at Vancouver yesterday by H. M. S. Grafton, flagship of Rear-Admiral

A. K. Bickford, C. M. G.; H. M. S. Flora, H. M. S. Shearwater and H. M. S. Egeria, and two torpedo boats, Nos. 36 and 40.

Steamer Thistle arrived from Union this morning with 40 tons of dry cargo and a cargo of coal from Union. Her crew report that the mine at Union is turning out about 1,000 tons of coal a day.

The steam freighter Staffa is discharging at one of the lower wharves to-day, which she brought from the Fraser. Steamer Queen City sailed for west coast points last evening. The steamship Spokane is due from Alaska to-morrow.

FRITH COMMITTED FOR TRIAL TO-DAY

and was prepared to kiss a perfectly clean book. He was excused until a brand new Testament should be obtained. Provincial Officer D. Campbell testified similarly to the evidence given at the time of the coroner's inquest. He told of the accused confessing to him of having killed Bailey on Saturday morning. The accused had come to witness as the latter was preparing to come into the city, and told him to stay outside as he would be needed. Frith persisted in this, and finally said to witness: "Dan, I've killed Bailey. Witness told him he must be crazy. Prisoner, however, re-affirmed that he had done it, and said he did it in self-defence. 'I have known the man so long,' continued witness, 'and have known his character so well, that I did not believe it. We had a drink together, and then Frith went home.'

He had told witness that he was going to get his breakfast, and said to come round in an hour and take him in charge. Witness telephoned to Mr. Davey, a clerk at the yard, and asked if Mr. Bailey was there. He was informed that he was, and that he had got his key at seven o'clock. The provincial police office in Victoria was informed, and witness got instructions to report to the naval yard and investigate the matter.

A search was made of Bailey's storehouse, entrance being gained by a duplicate key. Nothing was found. He went to Frith's house afterwards and arrested him. He asked the prisoner if he had anything to say, and the latter said he would make a statement to Superintendent Murray. He took Frith into the city and delivered him over to the charge of Sgt. Murray.

Sgt. Murray testified to having got information of the murder, and of having been at the police office when the prisoner was brought in. The prisoner said "I was in trouble, but I had to do it." Witness gave him full warning that he did not need to make any statement, and that if he did so it might be used against him. Prisoner said he fully understood this, and was prepared to give the same evidence in court as he was prepared then to make.

He took a part of the statement when Superintendent Murray came in. The remainder of the statement was then taken by Mr. Murray in the presence of the witnesses. The statement was read to the prisoner, and he said it was correct. With afterwards read it, and again said it was correct, and signed it. The prisoner was warned also by Superintendent Murray with respect to his having no need to make a statement before it was taken.

Dr. Hume was then recalled and sworn. He testified to receiving word of the body of Bailey being found, and after a while a post mortem examination. He gave the character of the wounds as at the time of the inquest. The death was caused by the bullet wound in the head. Otherwise the man was in a healthy condition. The wound had been near enough to the head of the victim to burn the skin. He identified the bullet which he had taken. Sgt. F. Murray, being recalled, produced the copy of the statement made by the prisoner.

The statement being read set forth Frith's story. It was to the effect that he had gone down to the storehouse with Bailey and selected a rug case which was moved outside and the door then locked. Bailey wanted to know what was between them. He said that it was said to be a misunderstanding, but he would fix him, and that as a result of the altercation he had to shoot Bailey in self-defence. Bailey was about five feet from him at the time, and he shot him from behind. Bailey dropped immediately and prisoner had walked outside, locking the door and leaving the key. He stated he had carried the body for thirty feet, and carried it continuously during that time.

Sgt. Murray also had searched the storehouse, and no staves or anything were found. Provincial Officer Campbell, recalled, said that the prisoner while walking down the street, after telling witness of the killing of Bailey, said something to the effect that "Bailey will not get any more men out of their jobs."

This completed the crown's case. The prisoner being asked if he had anything to say, replied: "I reserve my defence."

Police Magistrate Hall thereupon at once announced: "The accused is committed for trial."

The battery on both sides, viz., Clyde and Northcott for Calvary and Heathor and Anderson for Emmanuel, was very effective, but special mention should be made of Heathor's pitching, for while out of practice he demonstrated that he is a pitcher of ability. Over a dozen strikeouts were credited to him.

The dog show at Dunsmuir was participated in by about 35 Victoria dogs, and a great many of the trophies offered found their way here. In all there were about sixty dogs on exhibition. The funeral took place from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, where services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Hicks. Members of United Service lodge, No. 24, A. F. &amp; A. M., attended in a body, and the religious services of the order were conducted by the worshipful master, J. D. Phillips. Members of the service were also present in large numbers.
